ONE CLASSROOM AT A TIME

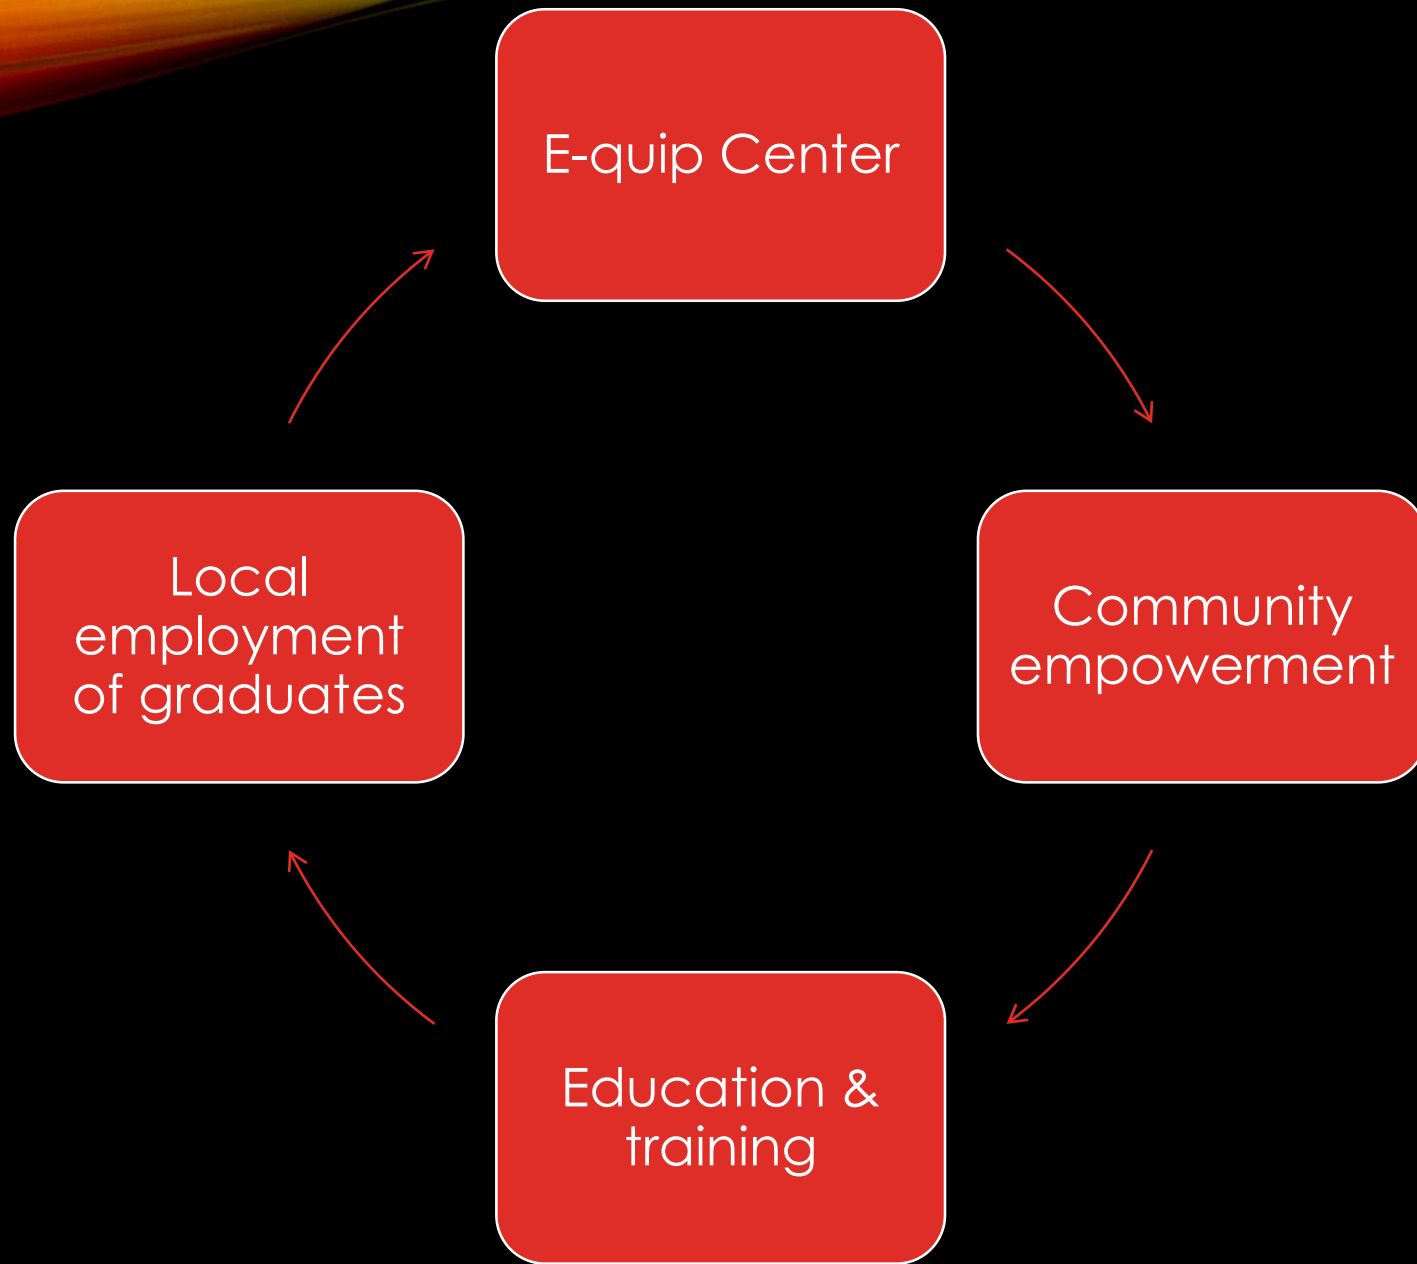

OBJECTIVE

- Equip 2 rural communities with computers in the Kpando municipality in Ghana.
- Create a memorandum of understanding with local Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO's) for maintenance.

- The world is becoming smaller and smarter by day. One of the key elements of this change is the global connection via the internet and other computer programs.
- In Ghana and many developing countries, computers are still a foreign abstract in the minds of many. Children are being taught information technology via pictures in books that are printed in black and white images.
